WHAT OMNI IS ALREADY PAYING FOR

THESE PROBLEMS HAVE A PRICE TAG. YOU'RE ALREADY PAYING IT.

PARENT CONFLICTS

Every coach hour spent managing parent behavior is an hour not spent developing athletes.

ATHLETE ATTRITION

LTV One Family = $42,000

Losing 10 athletes at $6,000/year = $60,000 gone.

Losing 20 = six figures. Every season.

COACHING BURNOUT

Coaches leave when the emotional labor exceeds the coaching. You know this firsthand.

FAILED PROGRAMS

The last mindset program didn't stick because it lacked implementation. Content isn't enough.

THIS IS NOT CONTENT. THIS IS INFRASTRUCTURE.

YOU'RE NOT HIRING A PROGRAM.
YOU'RE HIRING A SYSTEM.

NOT THIS

- Videos and worksheets
- Motivational workshops
- Optional opt-in app
- A guest speaker appearance
- Content parents forget by Monday

THIS

- ✓ Better parent behavior all season
- ✓ Lower coaching emotional labor
- ✓ Aligned athlete + parent communication
- ✓ Accountability built into the system
- ✓ Infrastructure your staff doesn't maintain

RUN THE NUMBERS

$700 PER FAMILY SOUNDS LIKE
A BIG NUMBER UNTIL YOU DO THE MATH.

$58

/ MONTH

Per family. Less than one private lesson.

$1.93

/ DAY

The daily cost of a fully managed parent system.

$700

/ YEAR

Give parents the knowledge they needed from the start, delivered with a system to use it.

$315K

TOTAL

For the infrastructure that protects everything else you've already built.

"Would you pay $58/month to improve athlete development, parent communication, and club culture across 450 families?"

AFTER ONBOARDING THE SEASON BECOMES REPS

THIS IS WHERE MOST PROGRAMS FALL APART. THIS IS WHERE OURS STARTS.

BI-WEEKLY ATHLETE CALLS

12 weeks of live group calls recorded, posted as replays. Athletes process game performance, reset mindset, move forward with a plan.

BI-WEEKLY PARENT CALLS

12 weeks of live group calls recorded, posted as replays. Parents process alongside other Omni families. Community accountability that doesn't exist anywhere else.

PRE-CALL FORMS

Every session preceded by an anonymous form submission. Urgent issues surface before the call not ambush-style during it. Gabby addresses them. Coaches are protected.

AUTOMATED COMMUNICATION

AI-powered sequences keep athletes and parents oriented throughout the season. No extra admin load on Omni staff.

GABBY AS FIRSTLINE FOR DRAMA

Parents don't bypass your coaches. They go through Gabby first. This is the boundary that protects your coaching staff all season.

THREE PARALLEL TRACKS. ONE ALIGNED CLUB.

THE FULL SEASON RUNNING SIMULTANEOUSLY.

Every track starts together. Every track moves together. That's alignment.

M

MINDSET

Before skills. Before stats. We start with why.

MINDSET

PERSPECTIVE SHAPES MINDSET. MINDSET INFORMS ACTION. CONTINUOUS ACTION IS FUELED BY MOTIVATION.

Volleyball is a uniquely dynamic sport, combining strategic positioning, anticipation, explosive athleticism, teamwork, and rapid decision-making. What do you love most about the game? How do you personally contribute to your team's success?

YOUR OBJECTIVE

Define your why

Choose your heroine guide

Build your mantra

MINDSET

- Identify the story you're unconsciously telling about your athlete's experience
- Learn to translate what you know into language she can actually receive and use
- Recognize how your frame, not hers, is shaping what she takes in
- This is not a feel-good reframe it's an audit of what's already running

M - MINDSET MIRROR

YOUR ECOSYSTEM.

Before you can show up for her, you have to understand the environment she's actually in.

The pause between your emotion and your response that's the Mirror Moment. Before every game. Every drive home. Every coach conversation.

"SHE'S NOT WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD. SHE'S WATCHING YOU."

Three questions. Every game. Every drive home. Every coach conversation. Ask her don't answer for her. What she says will surprise you.

WRITE WHAT SHE SAYS. NOT WHAT YOU THINK SHE'D SAY.

Start here. Come back at the end of the season. Notice what changed.

ANALYZE

Her film is her habits. Your film is how you show up.

AWARENESS

YOUR PERFORMANCE REFLECTS YOUR CHOICES. MAKE CHOICES THAT REFLECT YOUR GOALS.

By reverse engineering your current performance, you gain understanding of the habits and behaviors that have contributed to it. This will allow you to identify factors that are beneficial and those that might be hindering your progress.

YOUR OBJECTIVE

- Identify your behavior patterns both on and off the court
- Understand the emotions connected to your patterns
- Associate your behavior with the outcome

ANALYZE

ANALYZE

- Surface the habits and behaviors that are shaping her outcomes right now
- Identify what’s working, what’s getting in the way, and what has roots you haven’t looked at
- Parents complete a parallel audit of their own patterns and tendencies
- Awareness without honesty is decoration this section skips the decoration

A - ANALYZE MIRROR

YOUR AUDIT.

Awareness doesn't happen by accident. It takes the willingness to see your patterns not what you intend, but what you actually do. Not the version you imagine. The car ride home. The silence after a tough loss. The comparison you make out loud without knowing it.

"THE HABITS THAT FEEL GOOD TO YOU AREN'T ALWAYS THE ONES SERVING HER."

You're not auditing her you're auditing yourself. That's the work.

WRITE WHAT YOU NOTICE. NOT WHAT YOU WISH YOU'D DONE.

Start here. Come back at the end of the season. Notice what changed.

Z

ZERO IN

Three skills. One intangible. Everything else is noise.

ZERO EXCUSES

LASER FOCUS CAN TRANSFORM ANYONE INTO GREATNESS

Harness the power of laser focus on specific skills, applying intentional action to your plan. With this approach, you'll achieve consistent progress, cultivate sustainable habits, and conquer burnout and overwhelm.

YOUR OBJECTIVE

Zero in on three specific skills to focus on during the season

Text your coach a copy of your 3 skills to focus on

ZERO IN

ZERO IN

- The athlete selects three skills to develop and builds them into trackable targets
- Skills are rated, mapped to milestones, and tied to beginning, mid-season, and end checkpoints
- The parent learns her targets and trains to recognize them off the court not just on it
- When you can name her intangibles in the kitchen and the car, you're part of her development

Z · ZERO IN MIRROR

YOUR FOCUS.

Stop watching the game. Start watching her three things. Your job just shifted from general support to precision instrument. Her three skills are hers. Not the ones you'd pick. Not the ones that look best on a highlight reel. Honor the choice. Don't optimize it.

"YOU CAN'T ACKNOWLEDGE WHAT YOU DON'T UNDERSTAND."

Study her skills. Understand them at the depth that would surprise her. That's how she knows you've actually seen her.

WRITE WHAT YOU SEE.

NOT WHAT YOU HOPED TO SEE.

Start here. Come back at the end of the season. Notice what changed.

E

This is where the work becomes a habit.

EXECUTION

THE CHOICE IS YOURS

With a clear understanding of your current position and the path that led you here, your new found knowledge will become your motivation. By recognizing your strengths and weaknesses, you will confidently embrace challenges on your journey to greatness.

YOUR OBJECTIVE

- Build a habit tracker to measure progress throughout the season
- Build a map to reference throughout the season
- Text your coach a copy of your map

EXECUTE

- The athlete builds her season GPS: team goal, individual contribution, three skill milestone
- Daily habit tracker 31-day grid, color coded, pulled directly from the Analyze phase
- Parent track runs simultaneously: home environment optimization, mantra, weekly accountability checklist
- Consistent beats perfect this section builds the habits that hold when the season gets hard

E · EXECUTE MIRROR

YOUR ACTIONS.

Every gym day, you are choosing one of two roles. Manager speaks for her. Fixes for her. Fills the silence. Collaborator asks. Waits. Witnesses. One builds dependence. One builds ownership. The season is here. Every game. Every drive home. Every Sunday. Use the system.

"INTENTIONS DON'T RAISE ATHLETES. ACTIONS DO."

The process is the point. The outcome is the byproduct. One behavior at a time.

WRITE WHAT YOU DID.
NOT WHAT YOU MEANT TO DO.

Start here. Come back at the end of the season. Notice what changed.

EXECUTE · GAME PAGES

20 tournament pages. She owns the debrief. You hold the space.

"Never say never because limits, like fears, are often just an illusion."
- Michael Jordan

PERSONAL PERFORMANCE

ARE YOU SATISFIED WITH THIS?
IF NOT, WHAT DO YOU NEED TO DO TO CHANGE IT?

- Pre-game and post-game reflection before she steps on the court and after the final whistle
- Captures mental state, focus, execution, and what she’s taking forward
- Repeated every game so reflection becomes a habit, not an event
- This is where what she learns in practice gets applied under pressure

IF NO, WHY? IF YES, HOW?

PERSONAL PERFORMANCE

- Pre-practice intention and post-practice debrief built into every session
- Tracks the three focus skills in real time as they’re being developed
- Builds the habit of self-evaluation before the coach ever gives feedback
- Repetition is the point this is ball control for intangibles

- 31-day grid tracking the three skills selected in Zero In daily, visual, owned by the athlete
- Color-coded so patterns are visible at a glance streaks, gaps, and consistency over time
- Not a performance report. Not shared with parents. This is her data about herself.
- The goal is not perfection it's awareness of effort relative to intention

- 12 rotating prompts that run parallel to the athlete's 12-week guided track
- Each checkpoint focuses on one aspect of the parent's role: communication, environment, response habits, expectations
- Designed to surface patterns the parent can't see while they're in operational mode
- Not a quiz. Not a grade. A mirror one question a week that changes how you show up the other six days.

YOU'VE TRIED THIS BEFORE. HERE'S WHAT'S DIFFERENT.

THE LAST PROGRAM FAILED.
NOT BECAUSE MINDSET DOESN'T WORK.
BECAUSE IMPLEMENTATION WAS MISSING.

WHAT FAILED BEFORE

Mandatory extra workshops → complaints

Content too soft, felt "corny"

Didn't address conflict or accountability

Optional app = zero buy-in

Stopped at content delivery

WHAT THIS IS

Onsite onboarding built into the season start

Framework built for competitive athletes direct, not fluffy

Conflict resolution is the core skill not a side note

Club mandate model, is practice optional?

Implementation is where 80% of the work lives

FAMILIES WHO HAVE DONE THE WORK

NOT REVIEWS. RESULTS.

Thank you for your content! Love it! Have you ever considered doing a question/answer session for parents? I would love this. Would love a chance to hear your take on a few big questions

1

YOU'RE NOT HIRING A VENDOR. YOU'RE HIRING INFRASTRUCTURE.

GABBY COLE HAS LIVED BOTH SIDES OF THIS MAZE.

D1 ATHLETE

Former D1 volleyball player she knows what it takes at the competitive level from the inside.

VOLLEYBALL PARENT

She's on the sidelines every weekend. She hears the conversations your parents are having and she built this program from the inside of that environment.

17 YEARS IN SALES

Professionally trained to have hard conversations, meet people where they are, and build relationships that last. That's not a personality trait. That's a skill set.

PARENT TRUST

When parents don't feel safe asking their club, they find someone they trust. That person is already in the room with your families. Now she's working for you.

LIVED THE ECOSYSTEM

Athlete. Parent. Coach. Daughter of a 40-year coaching veteran. Nobody else has all four perspectives. That's the authority.

THE QUESTION ISN'T WHAT THIS COSTS.

THE QUESTION IS WHAT IT COSTS TO KEEP DOING WHAT YOU'RE DOING.

Parent conflicts your coaches absorb every week

Athletes who leave because the environment doesn't hold

Coaches who burn out because no one teaches the parents

$40K–$100K+ in attrition from culture breakdown

"If you're looking for the least expensive mindset program, we're probably not the right fit. If you're looking for someone to fundamentally improve how athletes, parents, and coaches operate together and take a substantial amount of that burden off your leadership team then this is one of the highest ROI investments your club can make."
