WHY YOUTH SPORTS
FEELS OUT OF CONTROL.

THE PERFORMANCE TRIANGLE

THREE PEOPLE.
ONE CONTRACT.

Every youth sports season is a contract between the athlete, the parent and the coach. When one corner guesses, the whole system breaks.

HEAR THIS ONCE

THE PROBLEM ISN'T EFFORT. It's MISALIGNMENT.

When expectations aren't aligned between athlete, parent, and coach, frustration fills the gap.
Every. Single. Time.

THREE CATEGORIES • ONE DECISION

PICK THE CONTRACT BEFORE YOU SIGN IT.

RECREATIONAL

1–2 practices / week
Local games, short season
Exposure and fun
Low cost, low weekends

EXPOSURE

SEMI-
COMPETITIVE

2–3 practices / week
Regional tournaments
Skill with balance
Moderate weekends + cost

DEVELOPMENT

COMPETITIVE

4+ practices / week
National travel circuit
Performance + identity
Every weekend, every dollar

PERFORMANCE

WHERE IT BREAKS DOWN

WHEN THE FAMILY IS IN SEMI-COMP BUT PAYING FOR COMPETITIVE
SOMEONE ALWAYS PAYS
THE BILL.

SYMPTOMS YOU MAY RECOGNIZE

- Car rides home get quieter
- Practice becomes a negotiation
- The coach starts feeling distant
- You feel blamed for a bad season

EFFORT CAN'T FIX
MISALIGNMENT.

Only alignment can. That's the whole reason this series exists.

STARTER QUESTIONS

WRITE THESE DOWN.

- 1 What does your athlete actually want from this season?
- 2 What do you want for her and is that the same thing?
- 3 What is the coach building toward?
- 4 What is your family's honest capacity time, money, emotion?
- 5 What's worth protecting, no matter the scoreboard?
