

BLUE OAK ELEMENTARY

NAPA DOESN'T NEED ANOTHER PROGRAM WITH A COMPETITIVE LOGO.

IT NEEDS THE FIRST REAL ONE

GABBY COLE · MAZE PERFORMANCE · PROGRAM ARCHITECT

• WHO I AM

I HIT THIS PROBLEM FACE-FIRST. TWICE. IN THIS EXACT TOWN.

GREW UP ON THE COURT

Mom coached volleyball for 40 years. My sister and I were top recruits in the nation, both full-ride D1.

BUILT IT TWICE ALREADY

Once inside a school (Justin-Siena), once as my own private training facility. Same two walls both times.

EAST BAY VS. NAPA

"Grittier" and "more competitive" don't cover it. The honest word is there was no system here.

WHO I'M WORKING WITH THIS YEAR

Marin Volleyball Club, Element Volleyball Club, 415 Volleyball Club, Fighting Mermaids Volleyball Club, Papa High School, MGA Volleyball Club.

BEFORE I TELL YOU ANYTHING, I WANT TO HEAR IT FROM YOU.

- 01 What made you decide now is the time to build a competitive program?
- 02 In two years, what does this program look like? Who's playing, who's coaching, who's proud of it?
- 03 What's already been tried and didn't work, inside Blue Oak or elsewhere in Napa?
- 04 Where do you feel least confident right now: coaching, structure, parents, or all three?
- 05 Is the goal to compete within Napa, or to get your girls playing outside Napa too?

THIS IS NOT A FAD. IT'S INFRASTRUCTURE BEING BUILT RIGHT NOW.

MAJOR LEAGUE VOLLEYBALL

Sacramento · private equity backed

LOVB

San Francisco · private equity backed

Volleyball is one of the fastest-growing sports for women in the U.S. right now. Real infrastructure, real money, real momentum.

NOBODY ELSE IN NAPA IS LOOKING AT THIS OPPORTUNITY.

It's a unique one. That gap either closes or it widens. It doesn't hold.

EVERY PROGRAM SITS IN A BUCKET. MOST DON'T KNOW WHICH ONE.

RECREATIONAL

Sport as extracurricular. Optional. Parent-coached.
Everyone makes the team.

SEMI-COMPETITIVE

Most school programs. Cuts exist but are softened.
Fairness prioritized over performance.

COMPETITIVE

Trained coaching. Positions and rotations taught deliberately. Cuts are real. Growth happens in discomfort, not around it.

EVERY NAPA SCHOOL PROGRAM

Not because the kids aren't talented. Because there's no system telling anyone what bucket they're actually in.

THE SAME TWO WALLS, BOTH TIMES.

01

NO COACHES

Plenty of people who played volleyball in Napa. Almost no one who coaches it. Those are not the same skill, and you cannot build a program on one coach and a room of well-meaning parents.

02

MIXED EXPECTATIONS, SAME TEAM

One girl treats every rally like the championship. She's not wrong, she's just alone in that intensity, so the ball becomes "anyone's ball." Without taught structure, the most competitive kid looks like the problem child. She isn't. The system around her is what's missing.

THE SYSTEM AROUND THE ATHLETE MATTERS MORE THAN THE ATHLETE'S TALENT

• THE PRESCRIPTION

THREE THINGS BLUE OAK NEEDS TO BUILD.

01 STRUCTURE, FRONT END AND BACK END

Front end: expectations set with parents and families so everyone buys into the same level of competition before the season starts. Back end: an actual program with coaches, a mission, and a reason this exists beyond "we have a team now."

02 A WAY TO CONSISTENTLY SHIFT BEHAVIOR OVER TIME

This doesn't change in one season. You need a system that holds people accountable to the new standard repeatedly, not a one-time meeting.

03 A WAY OUT OF THE WELL

You can't build something Napa hasn't seen by only drawing from what already exists in Napa. You either bring outside coaching in, or get your girls playing outside Napa. Ideally both.

MINDSYSTEM ALREADY SOLVES THE FIRST TWO.

THE THIRD ONE IS THE PART I'D BE BUILDING FOR BLUE OAK

• THE OPERATING SYSTEM

MINDSYSTEM IS A FULL-SEASON ARCHITECTURE. NOT A WORKSHOP.

MATCHED COMPASSES

The athlete owns the Compass Check and Debrief. The parent owns the Mirror Moment. Athlete-led, not parent-led. This is what stops a parent from becoming the accountability system by accident.

WALKING THE MAZE

The onboarding ritual every family goes through before the season starts. This is the front-end structure from the prescription. Already built, already proven.

ALREADY RUNNING

Marin Volleyball Club, Element Volleyball Club, 415 Volleyball Club, Fighting Mermaids Volleyball Club, Papa High School, MGA Volleyball Club.

AWARENESS WITHOUT A FRAMEWORK DOESN'T CREATE CHANGE, IT CREATES GUILT

• THE BUILD

WHAT I'D ARCHITECT FOR BLUE OAK.

COACHING PIPELINE

Conversations already open with a Marin club looking to differentiate from the bigger Marin programs. They're willing to supply coaching. Outreach already made to LOVB about coaching and mentorship access.

THE ACADEMY / MINI-LEAGUE

A structure that lets Blue Oak's girls play outside Napa, and pulls players into Napa from towns with the same problem. Talent and coaching crossing town lines instead of staying stuck in isolated pockets.

PRO-TO-ATHLETE PIPELINE

A direct line from Blue Oak's girls to the pro teams building in Sacramento (MLV) and San Francisco (LOVB): mentorship, role models, real exposure to what competitive actually looks like.

MINDSYSTEM UNDERNEATH ALL OF IT

The structure and accountability layer running through the coaching, the parents, and the athletes, so the new infrastructure doesn't collapse back into "well-meaning but recreational" within a year.

YOU'RE NOT BUYING A MENTAL PERFORMANCE ADD-ON.

YOU'RE HIRING THE PERSON WHO BUILDS THE WHOLE SYSTEM

• THE INVESTMENT • 12-MONTH CONSULTING PARTNERSHIP

ONE PARTNERSHIP. SIX PIECES OF INFRASTRUCTURE.

01 COACHING PIPELINE & PLACEMENT

Recruiting, vetting, and placing 2-4 experienced coaches for the 6-week season, with pipeline-building beyond it.

02 YEAR-ROUND PROGRAM ARCHITECTURE

A revenue-building academy or club-satellite model, plus camps and clinics hosted at the Blue Oak facility.

03 PRO PATHWAY CONNECTION

Direct connection to LOVB and MLV for mentorship access, visibility, and exposure for Blue Oak athletes.

04 MINDSYSTEM CURRICULUM

The full-year MAZE framework for the volleyball team, with a roadmap to expand school-wide.

05 MANAGEMENT & COMMUNICATION

Monthly on-site update meetings with school leadership, plus ongoing virtual touchpoints.

06 CONSULTING PARTNERSHIP

12 months with Gabby as ongoing consultant, holding every piece above together as one program.

YOU WANT IT,
WE HAVE TO BUILD IT.

THE SEASON STARTS WHETHER WE'RE READY OR NOT. DECIDE, AND WE START RECRUITING MONDAY.
